

New Beginnings Clinic

CAMH mental health and wellness clinic for refugees

Do you have a refugee client or patient with whom you are unsure how to proceed?

Refer them to our clinic by visiting our website for referral details.

Care providers can also consult with the clinic's psychiatrists or social workers who have special expertise in refugee mental health.

What services are offered?

- For complex cases, we can provide assessment and brief, culturally sensitive interventions for refugees with psychological issues.
- Primary care and other support providers can access the clinic to discuss and get advice on refugee client and patient cases.

Who can use these services?

- Any of your clients or patients who are refugees (government-assisted or privately sponsored) and refugee claimants in their first two years in Toronto.
